Hi Kay,

Do the drawing of our John Doe is just about complete. Below is an email from the lady doing the drawing. Could you provide her the billing info. Also can you double check the age range for the dental exam. Kathy found that the skeleton looks older than previously thought. Thanks so much.

Hi Hayley,

I'm just about done on this case. Do you have any info for me from Dr. Bell? If not, I'll just go with the age range that KT thought he should be.

Can you tell me who I should be billing on this - who I should name on the invoice, who to send the invoice and a W9 to, and who needs copies of the drawings? I'm doing 2 of them - one open mouthed and one closed, since he's got full dentals. I normally do closed mouth because I think it looks weird to have a big smile on a deceased unidentified, but when you've got no postmortem tooth loss and some distinctive teeth like his, you've got to include those. So you get both. (Same price)

Thanks,
Natalie

Hi Natalie!

I'm so excited that you are able to help us on this case. I'm sorry I haven't gotten back to you sooner but I've been out of town this week. I will be back on Monday to double check the age range Dr Bell had. The Sheriff's office has a fund they are using on this case. I'll get you that information as well for billing purposes. I look forward to seeing what you can do on this case.

Thank you again and I will be in touch!

Hi Hayley,

KT gave me your email info, I'm the forensic artist who will be drawing the reconstruction on this case. (KCME 18-2371) I was on the phone with KT today talking over the case report you sent her and the notes regarding this victim's specifics. She advised you originally had him listed as 20 to 30 yoa.

Looking at the photos KCME took of his skull, KT estimated him as older than 20 to 30, based solely on the cranial sutures. She'll know more after the rest of his skeleton is processed and can make a final determination then. She asks if Gary Bell came up with an age estimation based on his odontology examination - can you advise?

At this point, I'll be drawing the victim at about 30 to 40 yoa, but I'm open to aging him a bit more or less dependent on final determination.

I believe KT quoted you $300 for the reconstruction. I do the work digitally, so I can email it to you when I'm done. The size is large enough to use for print and/or digital release, and a digital image keeps the quality of the original drawing without any loss of tone or detail that you'd get from a scanned pencil image. You'll be able to use it multiple times without any loss of quality. I'll also send an invoice and a W9 for your finance department, if you'll tell me who to send them to. If you haven't seen my work yet, you can check my website, www.nataliemurphy.com<<http://www.nataliemurphy.com>>.

Thanks!

Natalie Murry

RP'S were cruising timber on February 20, 1989 and came across a body (skin and bones) hanging from a tree on steep hillside (Birdseye View Rd) above MP 12 on Chuckanut Drive. Directions: Chuckanut Drive to Birdseye View Road, 2 ½ miles up Birdseye View Rd, 400 feet down steep grade toward Hwy 11.

Responding deputies: Tony Breckenridge, Mark Sonnabend, Sgt. Dave Willard.
Mountain Rescue: Mark Eaton and Tim Tipten

Deputies were led in to the scene on February 21, 1989. The rope used for the hanging may have been some kind of fishing rope. Clothing: gray-red-blue plaid long sleeved shirt, blue Levi zippered jeans, dark blue cotton gym shorts, red ringed socks, brown belt with small silver buckle, probably white with blue tennis shoes, gold colored Benrus watch. A gray-blue jacket, blue hair brush, blue sunglasses, and a crumpled package of Marlboro cigarettes were found near the body.

Quote for the disinterment of John Doe buried (for identifying purposes) in Bow Cemetery on Sept. 5, 1989:

Open and Close Grave $900.00

Kern's helping with arranging and the day of $500.00

Grave marking fee at Bow Cemetery $50.00

Total Amount $1,450.00

There are always unknowns with disinterment's, so if a new liner is needed the cost of a new liner would be $500.00 and we discounted that price. Also if needed a new casket/container is needed, we have a flat top cloth covered casket here, the price would be $900.00 and I'm discounting that as well.

This agency is looking for assistance with identifying remains located in February 1989.

On February 20, 1989, timber cruisers located a man above Chuckanut Drive near Bow, Washington, who appeared to have taken his own life. He was found on a very steep hillside. The closest access road at the time was Birdseye View Road. This is near the Skagit/Whatcom County line.

The man was wearing gray-red-blue plaid long sleeved shirt, blue Levi zippered jeans, dark blue cotton gym shorts, socks with a red ring around the top, brown belt with small silver buckle, probably white with blue tennis shoes (size 9-10), gold colored Benrus watch. A gray-blue jacket, blue hair brush, blue sunglasses, and a crumpled package of Marlboro cigarettes were found near the body. A rope recovered with the body may have been some kind of fishing rope, or had a fishing style knot.

Autopsy examination determined he was a white male, between 20-30 yoa, brown hair, approximately 5'4"-5'6" tall, estimated time of death 6 months to 1 year prior to discovery. Dental records are available.

Citizens have a Go Fund Me account started to pay for exhumation of the body to assist with DNA/identification. If funding is raised, Dr. Kathy Taylor of the KCME's office will conduct an examination and a forensic Odontologist will review the dental. Reconstruction will also occur.

Local media is aware of these efforts and has published the information. It is also posted on the SCSO Facebook page.

GEORGE W POOLER, CANADIAN INDIAN, WAS REPORTED LAST SEEN ON NOVEMBER 18, 1988, DURING A HOUSE PARTY AT HIS RESIDENCE. REPORTED MISSING TO THE COLVILLE TRIBAL POLICE ON NOVEMBER 27, 1988, BY HIS NIECE, ROBERTA TONASKET. INVESTIGATION INDICATES THAT POOLER WAS KNIFED TO DEATH FOLLOWING A DISPUTE OVER A WOMAN. IT IS CLAIMED THAT POOLER IS BURIED ON OR NEAR THE COLVILLE INDIAN RESERVATION. AN EXTENSIVE SEARCH OF SEVERAL IDENTIFIED AREAS HAS FAILED TO PRODUCE POOLER'S BODY. A POSSIBILITY DOES EXIST THAT POOLER MAY HAVE VOLUNTARILY DISAPPEARED AND IS IN HIDING AS A RESULT OF BAD DRUG DEALINGS. ALL SUSPECTS AND WITNESSES HAVE BEEN CONTACTED AND QUESTIONED SEVERAL TIMES WITHOUT RESULTS. THE FBI HAS REVIEWED AND ASSISTED IN THE INITIAL INVESTIGATION OF THIS CASE. DUE TO NO PHYSICAL EVIDENCE BEING LOCATED TO PROVE FOUL PLAY, THE FBI HAS DECLINED TO TAKE ANY FURTHER ACTION UNTIL NEW EVIDENCE IS DEVELOPED. LOCAL SHERIFF'S DEPARTMENTS HAVE BEEN CONTACTED TO ASSIST IN LOCATING POOLER. AN EXTENSIVE CASE FILE HAS BEEN DEVELOPED ON THIS CASE.

WSP MPU,

89-01753

In 2010, this agency received records of missing persons that were a potential match for our unidentified remains entered under U492903476. Several were eliminated with dental records. Several records were not eliminated. Two are below.

I have attached available dental records on two missing persons from Idaho County Sheriff's Office as follows:

Harder, Franklin David dob/4-23-1953 NIC/M029237528
Schroeder, James Francis dob/5-14-1960 NIC/M194683481

I was told this is everything that is available. Is there enough to be able to confirm or eliminate them as my unidentified?

Kay,
As far as I can tell Harder does not have xrays available in NamUs. There are images of charting but no xrays.
Naylor can be eliminated due to x-ray comparison
Peters can be eliminated due to x-ray comparison
Burchfield can not be eliminated with the available dental information.

Let me know if you have any questions.

Harder can be eliminated due to the fact that Harder's records indicate a filling was done on tooth #3 and there is no filling in tooth #3 of the unidentified remains.

Schroeder can not be eliminated as his records indicate that all teeth are unrestored and the unidentified has fillings but they could have been completed following the last known dental records. Both records indicate that x-rays are available and it would be nice to see these.

I cannot rule out Mr. Halladay as a possible based on the available dental information alone but I feel he would be an unlikely candidate due to the interval between the DLC and DBF as well as the MIS comments regarding his belongings found on the Golden Gate Bridge. It is my opinion, that based on all information available this individual can be eliminated.

Sheriff's Office renews effort to identify 1989 John Doe

@Kera_SVH

BOW — At the south end of Bow Cemetery, underneath a Western red cedar tree, lies a simple grave marker.

On a recent afternoon, a single cedar bough graced the top of the marker — almost too perfectly positioned for it to have been left there by nature.

"It's funny," said Bow resident Tony Breckenridge, who visits the grave about four times a year. "Every time I come here, someone's placed something here."

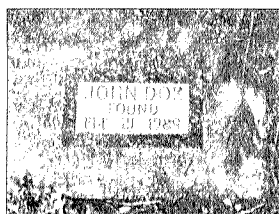

The identity of the man buried under the grave marker remains a mystery; the stone simply reads "John Doe."

Breckenridge remembers being the Skagit County Sheriff's deputy leading a search and rescue crew sent into the Oyster Creek area off Chuckanut Drive where the man had been found Feb. 21, 1989.

"There's so many unanswered questions," Breckenridge said. "The important thing is, that's a son to someone."

Now, nearly 30 years after the man's body was discovered in the remote location, the Skagit County Sheriff's Office — prompted by advances in technology — is renewing its efforts to identify the man.

"The reality is some cases never leave us," said Skagit County Sheriff's

The body of a John Doe was buried in the Bow Cemetery in September 1989.

Office Sgt. Jennifer Sheahan-Lee.

THE PAST

Whoever the man was, wherever he came from, one thing appears to be certain: he didn't want to be found.

A logger surveying in the area stumbled upon the remains of the man near the Whatcom/Skagit county border. There was no identification, no note and nothing to help investigators determine the man's identity.

According to a Skagit Valley Herald article written at the time, the man was found hanging from a tree by his neck, with his knees just inches off the ground.

His last sight would have been of the water.

"It was very picturesque," Breckenridge said. "If he hadn't been on the survey line, he might still not be found to this day."

The body was estimated to have been at that location for at least a year, according to the Skagit Valley Herald article.

Much of the man's body was intact and was basically mummified, Breckenridge said, leading him to believe the man had hanged himself during cold weather.

Because of the condition of the body, officials were unable to obtain fingerprints, Breckenridge said.

Dental records were obtained and run through a statewide system, but returned no match, according to the newspaper article.

According to reports, the man was white, between 20 and 30 years old, with brown hair and between 5-foot-4 and 5-foot-6. He was wearing a blue and white plaid shirt, a blue and white windbreaker, Levi jeans and white tennis shoes.

A pack of cigarettes was found nearby and a comb was found in the man's pocket, said Detective Kay Walker with the Skagit County Sheriff's Office, who is now assigned to the case as part of the Sheriff's Office's investigative unit.

DNA technology was fairly new at the time, and no missing persons reports were filed that matched the man's description, Walker said.

In 2015, the man was entered into the National Missing and Unidentified Persons System, based out of the University of North Texas, but the system has returned no matches, she said.

JOHN MCCAIN: 1936-2018

War hero, maverick, presidential candidate

By NANCY BENAC

Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Sen. John McCain, who faced down his captors in a Vietnam prisoner of war camp with jut-jawed defiance and later turned his rebellious streak into a 35-year political career that took him to Congress and the Republican presidential nomination, died Saturday after battling brain cancer for more than a year. He was 81.

McCain, with his irascible grin and fighter-pilot moxie, was a fearless and outspoken voice on policy and politics to the end, unswerving in his defense of democratic values and unflinching in his criticism of his fellow Republican, President Donald Trump. He was elected to the Senate from Arizona six times but twice thwarted in seeking the presidency.

An upstart presidential bid in 2000 didn't last long. Eight years later, he fought back from the brink of defeat to win the GOP nomination, only to be overpowered by Democrat Barack Obama. McCain chose a little-known Alaska governor as his running mate in that race, which turned Sarah Palin into a national political figure.

Washington one of eight states with 'chief privacy officer'

By JENNI BERGAL

Stateline.org

WASHINGTON — In this age of hackers and cybercriminals, every state has a top security official focused on preventing breaches and protecting the vast amounts of data it collects. Now, a growing number also are hiring a top official to make sure that the privacy of residents' personal data is protected as well.

Many large companies have employed "chief privacy officers" for years, but they were rare in state government. A decade ago, there were only a few; today, at least eight states have them — Arkansas, Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, South Carolina, Utah, Washington and West Virginia, according to the National Association of State Chief Information Officers. Arkansas hired its first in June.

John Doe/

On Sept. 6, 1989, in a low-key ceremony, John Doe, now known to many as "Bow Doe," was buried in a casket with a grey flannel cloth and silk flowers resting on top, the Skagit Valley Herald reported.

His burial cost taxpayers a little more than $1,000, according to the Skagit Valley Herald.

Because there were no mourners, the gravediggers were asked to serve as witnesses.

Breckenridge said the loneliness of the man's death is part of what sticks with him.

"No one wants to be left on Earth with no one knowing who they were," he said.

THE PRESENT

In death, "Bow Doe" has found a home among the small group of community members who are spearheading the movement to identify him.

"He's had a quasi-substitute family," Sheahan-Lee said.

In May, on the heels of the Sheriff's Office catching a break in a nearly 30-year-old double homicide by using new DNA technology, Breckenridge approached the department and asked that it take another look at the Bow Doe case, she said.

Walker, who had previously tried unsuccessfully to get DNA off the items found at the scene, didn't know the answers she sought were resting in the shade of a cedar tree in Bow.

"I didn't know he was buried here," she said.

Now, the Sheriff's Office is hoping to exhume the man's body in the hope of using Rev. Douglas Huston prays over a casket containing the remains of an unidentified man known only as John Doe. Three grave diggers stood nearby but did not want their picture taken.

John Doe laid to rest in simple graveside service

By MICK BOROUGHS

BOW — The six folding chairs remained empty throughout the brief graveside service.

The funeral director asked three grave diggers if they would stand in as witnesses when no one showed to attend the service to bury an unidentified man known only as John Doe.

"Surely the darkness will hide me and the light become night around me. Even the darkness will not be dark to you and the night will shine like the day for the darkness is as light to you," the Rev. Douglas Huston read from his Bible.

The remains of the unidentified man were buried Tuesday morning underneath the shade of a large cedar tree at Bow Cemetery.

"Today we come to lay to rest one who tried to hide in darkness," said Huston, pastor of the Allen-Blanchard United Methodist Church.

"We pray to God that he has found the lightness that he could not find in this life," Huston said.

Although no one knows the dead man's identity, Huston said, it is customary to call him John Doe.

"We call this man John and the name John means 'beloved by God.' I think by tradition of calling (unidentified males) John Doe we reaffirm that they are loved by God."

Funeral director Vernon Egbers of Hulbush Funeral Home asked three grave diggers standing off by a back hoe if they would come forward to witness the burial.

The simple wooden casket was covered in gray cloth with a large bouquet of reusable silk roses covering the top.

Plans call for a simple marker engraved with the name John Doe and the date his remains were found.

The man's remains were found Feb. 21 hidden in some woods east of Oyster Creek on Chuckanut Drive. A Bellingham man stumbled upon the grisly find while looking at real estate.

The dead man apparently committed suicide by tying a cord around his neck and a branch and hung himself just inches off the ground.

Skagit County deputies and Coroner Frank Kendall have attempted to identify the remains of the man for six months.

The man was thought to be between 20 and 30 years old at the time of his death. He had brown hair and is believed to be Caucasian.

His teeth were examined and charted into the state computer recording missing persons. No one claimed the remains.

"We may never know the circumstances of this man's death," Egbers said.

At the end of the five-minute service, the grave diggers got to work.

The folding chairs were put away and the small tent covering the grave site was quickly dismantled.

The casket was lowered into the concrete liner about five feet down beneath the green lawn.

"You have to have at least two feet of dirt over the top," said grave digger Terry Moore.

Egbers thanked the grave diggers for attending the service.

"To me there's more feeling to be here than at some other funerals I've attended," Egbers said. "That person really needed someone to be here."

A September 1989 article in the Skagit Valley Herald documents the burial of a John Doe in Bow Cemetery.

new technology to find out who he was.

"We're really just hoping to be able to make this help us find his family," Sheahan-Lee said.

The exhumation will cost $1,600, she said.

A GoFundMe account set up by community members has raised about $500.

Once the body is exhumed, the King County Medical Examiner's Office, which has a forensic anthropologist and odontologist on staff, has agreed to take possession of the body and re-evaluate it, Walker said.

From there, the office hopes to be able to use the man's skull to make a visual reconstruction of what he may have looked like, which may jog the memories of those who knew him at the time.

"Hopefully that will give us at least a visual," Walker said.

If the facial reconstruction yields no leads, Walker said the Sheriff's Office may explore other options, likely involving DNA.

"What our goal is to really get the word out," Sheahan-Lee said.

While the case is not a criminal matter, the Sheriff's Office would like to bring closure, Sheahan-Lee said.

"This feels very good to us," she said. "We don't always get to work with the community on feel-good conclusions."

Anyone with information about the man's identity is asked to call the Sheriff's Office's tipline at 1-510-775-2448.
